Métis Rules of Order & Meeting Procedures

• Creating transparency, inclusivity, and “diversity through unity” so all voices are heard

• How it connects to the Code of Conduct, to ensure that meetings are respectful and collaborative

• Engaging with MNO Citizens and leadership for feedback

• Ratification of Métis Rules of Order at Annual General Assembly
MNO Code of Conduct

The MNO Code of Conduct will guide the behavior expected of all MNO Citizens, including MNO elected officials, in their interactions with each other when participating in the collective work and nation-building activities of the MNO.

1) Purpose and application of the Code
2) Standards of Conduct for Citizens
3) Conflict Resolution
4) Sanctions and appeals process
The Mètis Government: Recognition and Self-Government is to be implementable for the benefit of the Mètis people!

We are the many peoples. When we are united, our strength is in the rights and our presence among us and our ancestors always before us. That's who we are.

I would like to thank and express our efforts in coming together as one Mètis government.

Moving forward together.

“Mètis people hold a central place in the history & development of Canada.”

Section 35

Defining the term “Mètis” under Section 35.

We, the Mètis, were erased from the map. It's time to redraw these maps of our story.

“I think more trials should be done.”

“I don't think there is enough time done on studies to ensure vaccine safety for every member of our society.”

“I worry they have been developed too fast and they may have long term side effects however resources for creating vaccines are much better now. It would be great to know if they will work.”

“As a community elder I feel it important to protect our selves against covid through following guide lines and keeping our people safe.”

“Bring it on!”

“I think like all vaccinations; there is a reason for them. To help all.”

“I am going to take it to keep the community safe from the virus, and to be able to go back to normal life.”

Vaccine development and approval in Canada

Vaccine development

Scientists develop a potential vaccine

Scientists conduct lab and animal studies before testing on humans

Phase I
- Is the vaccine safe?
- What is a safe dose?
- Are there any side effects?

10s of volunteers

Phase II
- How well does the vaccine work?
- Is it safe on a larger number of people?
- Safest and most effective dose?

100s of volunteers

Phase III
- Does the vaccine prevent disease?
- What are the side effects?

1000s of volunteers

Manufacturer submits application to Health Canada for review

Exploratory

Preclinical

Clinical Trials

Application

For COVID-19 vaccines, Health Canada is using a fast-tracked process that allows manufacturers to submit data as it becomes available, and for Health Canada experts to start the review process right away. Vaccines will only be authorized once we have all necessary evidence.
Review and approval of vaccines

Teams of Health Canada experts conduct a thorough and independent review of all vaccine data *

Health Canada approves a vaccine if it is safe, it works, it meets manufacturing standards, and the benefits outweigh the risks

Governments coordinate the purchase, logistics and distribution of vaccines across Canada

All Canadians have access to the vaccine

Continuous monitoring and review to confirm the safety of the vaccine, and that benefits outweigh risks
